D-2. PROGRAMMATIC LENDING

Since 1996, the World Bank has worked jointly with the Government of Ghana as well as other foreign agencies and donors to design and support the implementation of medium-term sectoral programs in health, basic education, and highways. This approach is intended to unify all external assistance in support of the government's program to achieve its broad sectoral objectives. This section focuses on your experience with these programs in Ghana. If you have no experience with these programs, please skip this section and go to the next section.
