Dear Sir, Madam, our Respondent!

It is important task of the Central Statistical Office to provide real facts, analysis and statistics about the social circumstances of individuals, families and households for public purposes.

We carry out surveys to fulfil our task. The statistics on the living conditions of different social groups e.g. pensioners, families with children, single persons, household living in cities or at the country are based on data given by the respondent families.

Your family was chosen randomly. We ask you to respond for this survey.

We ensure you the individual personal data of yours won't be surrendered neither private persons nor institutions according to the Act of Data Protection and Security and will be handled in strictest confidence. The result of the survey will be published in report by the form of aggregated statistical tables without any personal identifying code. Our representative visiting you has an identity card with a photo issued by the Directorate of Central Statistical Office.

Your data is very important to draw accurate statistics and data users should be able to draw the correct conclusions. Their decisions effecting the living standard need objective data to base on.

Thank you in advance for your effort to help us to release veritable information on social and living circumstances of families.

Your sincerely,

Dr. Tamás Mellár
