DEFINITIONS

Household is a group of people who live in a common dwelling (at the same address) and share joint financial and/or food resources. Persons included in the household are members of the household. A household may also consist of one member only.

Temporarily absent means first of all that the person absent will presumably return to the household after the end of the mission, studies, etc. In general, the respondent can decide whether the contact with the person absent is close enough to consider him or her a member of the household. If the person absent has started his or her own family and lives permanently separately, then he or she is not considered a member of the respondent household although, for example, he or she may still have his or her own room at his or her parents' house and he or she may receive regular financial help.

Sample household is a household, which contains at least one person who was included in the sample.

Sample persons are all household members, who were 14-year-olds or older as at 1 January of the survey year when the household was first included in the survey. It is indicated in the protocol whether the member is a sample person. Only sample persons are traced.

New household member is a household member who has joined the sample person's household after the last interview of the Social Survey.

Guest is a person who does not belong to the household but has spent at least three months in the household during the previous calendar year.

Initial household is a sample household where at least one such sample person belongs to who lives in the same dwelling as at the last survey year. If none of the households where a sample person belongs to lives at the same address, then initial household is the one where household member with the smallest person number belongs.

Split-off household is a new household of the sample person who has left the initial household and started to live separately.

New household is a household, which has been included to the survey from the year 2006.

Code of household is a special identifying code of the household, which is given to the household at inclusion to the survey. The code of household is given to the interviewer to take along on the sample information.

Split number is a two-figure code, which shows the division of the initial household. The split number of the initial household and a new household is 00. Interviewer will give the split number to the new split-off household: it is the first vacant split number displayed to the interviewer by the data entry program for information.

Household member's number is a special identifying code of the person formed according to the fixed regulation, which is attributed to every household member at his or her inclusion to the survey. Household member's number is unique and it consists of three parts: code of household (6 figures) + split number (2 figures) + reference number of the person (2 figures). Household member's number is unchangeable during the whole survey.

In case of the known household members, the household member's number is given the interviewer to take along on the sample information from where the interviewer writes the number in section X to the question XX1. In section B, the interviewer writes four last figures of the household member's number of the known members from section X or from the protocol (in case of split-off household). The interviewer gives these four last figures to new members or to the members of new households as follows:

1) to new members in the split-off or initial household

    a)   the first two figures: split number – looks from the cover of the household questionnaire;

    b)   the next two figures: the first vacant reference number of a household member in this household – data entry program gives automatically in case of split-offs;

2) to the members of a new household

    a)   the first two figures: split number – looks from the cover of the household questionnaire (always 00);

b) the next two figures: the reference number of a household member – according to the column number (BX1).

The interviewer cannot give the last four figures of the household member's number, if it concerns the person who has participated in the survey last year but has moved to another sample household (new members in the initial or split-off household (BX = 1 or 2 and BA1 = 1) and who participated also last year (BA4 = 1), or a member of a new household (BX = 3) who participated in the survey last year as well (BA4 = 1)). The described situation is exceptional. As a result the interviewer must very thoroughly double-check it.

SECTION X. TRACING
