HOUSEHOLD EXPENDITURE SURVEY

Dear household members,

The Household Expenditure Survey is being performed by the Bosnia and Herzegovina Agency for Statistics, the Federal Institute of Statistics, and the Republic Institute for Statistics of Republika Srpska, and it shall be used for collecting data on the daily lives of the population.

How much are the households spending for food, clothes, fun, vacations? For housing, insurance, transport, health? Is there any difference between the expenses of households that live in urban areas and those that live in rural ones, between older and younger, or between smaller and larger households?

Responses to those questions will be acquired following the analysis of information received from the surveyed households, on the templates envisaged for that.

In front of you is the first document (Purchasing Journal); please fill it out carefully, complying with the instructions of the surveyor and the recommendations provided below.

The data collected with the Purchasing Journal will be used for calculating the size and the structure of expenditure of the household and will be used exclusively for statistical and scientific purposes.

If you are consuming products that you have not bought but have, instead, produced yourself, you should also fill out the Journal of Consumption from Own Production. At the end, you will be filling out the questionnaires for the final interview together with the surveyor, during the last visit, on the occasion of takeover of the filled-out journals.

Who fills out the Purchasing Journal?

The purchasing journal shall be filled out by the household member who is the best informed of the expenses for the purchased products / services of the household, and/or the member who is performing the purchase, in such a manner that every day, during the 14 days of keeping the Journal, he shall enter into the corresponding cells all the expenses incurred by any of the household members.

What should be entered into the Purchasing Journal?

All the expenses and quantities of bought products / services that the household had had during the 14 days of keeping the Purchasing Journal.

What to do in case of needing additional information?

In case of requiring additional information, please call the surveyor or write the problem down and inform the surveyor during his next visit.

Thank you for cooperating.

SYSTEM OF MEASUREMENT UNITS
FOR WEIGHT:
1t= 1000 kg
1 kg= 100 dkg	= 1000 g
10 dkg	= 100 g
FOR LIQUIDS:
1 hl= 100 l
1l= 1000 ml
1 dl= 100 ml

INSTRUCTIONS FOR THE HOUSEHOLD

- Expenses should be entered every day, in order to avoid the possibility of forgetting. Bills from the shops could serve for that purpose, too.
- Expenses and quantities should be entered for all individual products / services. In addition to the products that are bought in the domestic market, products bought abroad shall also be recorded.
- The amount paid in BAM shall be entered with 2 decimal points, for example: BAM 2.50; BAM 15.75, BAM 350.00 etc.
- Pay attention to whether the column in which quantities are being entered is expressed in kilograms, liters etc. If the purchased quantities are smaller than the units of measurement stated in the “Purchasing Journal”, decimal amounts shall be entered for the purchased quantities, for example, 500 grams = 0.5 kilograms, 50 grams = 0.05 kilograms, 5 grams = 0.005 kilograms; (rounded up to 0.01 kilogram), 250 ml = 0.25 liters etc. Integers shall be entered without decimal points, for example 1 kilogram, 2 liters etc.
- In case of large expenses for food and beverages, individual items shall be entered separately, instead of group categories (for example, you will write bananas, apples, grapes, instead of fruit), except in cases of group categories that are not separated in the journal (for example, sweet and sour cherries).
- Expenses for pocket money shall be classified to individual items to which it was spent (for example, cinema tickets, expenses in coffee shops, etc.).
- If, during the 14 days of keeping the “Purchasing Journal” you had bought any of the products on credit or with delayed payment, you should enter the entire amount, regardless of the fact that you will be repaying the installment in another period. Also, if during the 14 days of keeping the “Purchasing Journal” an installment should be realized for some previous purchase, that amount should not be recorded. For example: purchasing winter preserves on credit. If that purchase was performed during the period of keeping the “Purchasing Journal”, then the total value and quantities of products bought for winter preserves shall be allocated by items in the “Purchasing Journal”. The sum of individual values by points shall have to equal the value of total winter preserves. In case the winter preserves had been bought before the start of the period of keeping the “Purchasing Journal”, that expense shall not be recorded, and neither will the installment for winter preserves that matures for payment during the period of keeping the “Purchasing Journal”.
- In the cell for RESTAURANTS, CAFES, AND CANTINAS, all expenses shall be entered for food and beverages in bars, restaurants, cafes, cantinas etc., including tips. In addition, the purchased fast food, food and beverages from the vending machines and food and beverages delivered at home, should be entered, regardless of where they were consumed.
- NEWSPAPERS AND MAGAZINES – Individual costs are to be entered into this section, while subscriptions shall not be entered into the Purchasing Journal.
- When costs of TRANSPORT are being recorded, care should be taken of ensuring that in the “Purchasing Journal” expenses are entered for individual tickets for urban public transport. Expenses for the school bus and inter-city transport shall not be entered into the “Purchasing Journal”.
- If the surveyed household or any of its members takes a vacation in the reference period and pays for a package arrangement, full or half board or overnight stay, only those expenses that are not included in the price of the arrangement shall be entered into the “Purchasing Journal” (food, beverages, newspapers bought during the holiday etc.).
- If, during the period of keeping the “Purchasing Journal”, you had higher expenses on food and beverages for the purpose of holding a wedding, christening, religious holidays, funerals etc., those costs need to be separated and recorded by individual items in the “Purchasing Journal”.
- If the household that is keeping the “Purchasing Journal” has its own store from which it supplies itself with food, beverages etc., it should record in the “Purchasing Journal” such types of expenses at retail prices. Expenses incurred for the requirements of business and agricultural activity, instead for the consumption of the household, shall not be recorded.
- Expenses for products / services bought as a gift shall be entered into the “Purchasing Journal”. Received gifts shall, in contrast, not be entered.
- Expenses on products / services that cannot be found in the “Purchasing Journal” should be written on the last page, in the section envisaged for those purposes, and the surveyor should be informed of that.

Note: If, during any of the 14 days of keeping the “Purchasing Journal” there had been no purchases, it is necessary to enter that date and the following note “There were no purchases”.
