Data Collection Organization:

University of Algiers

Fieldwork Period:

01-03-2002 - 31-05-2002.

Universe:

National Population, Both sexes, 18 and more years

Sample size:

1282

Estimated Error:

2,8

Questionnaire:

The WVS questionnaire had French and Arabic versions from the WVS in Morocco. Algerian members of the research team translated the questions that were added. The translated questionnaire was not back-translated into English and the translated questionnaire was not pre-tested. Some questions or concepts caused particular problems when the questionnaire was translated because seemed irrelevant or inappropriate. However, we kept the questions because of the strong insistence from WVS committee. There have not been any optional WVS questions and/or items been included, however country-specific questions were included. The country-specific questions were inserted where it was most appropriate in the interview schedule, not at the end or in any single location.

Sample:

The sample was designed to be representative of the entire adult population, i.e. 18 years and older, of your country. The lower age cut-off for the sample was 18 and there was not any upper age cut-off for the sample. The different stages in the sampling procedure were: -10 of 48 provinces (gouvernorats) were purposively selected. They were selected to maximize diversity (and representativeness) with respect to economic situation, ethnic composition, population size, geographic location, level of urbanization, etc. -Districts (communes) were then selected in each province: (1) the largest commune was selected, and (2) a number of additional communes were selected randomly, the number being determined by the population of the province. -Respondents were selected by quota in each district based on sex and age, with the proportion in each of the four age categories determined by the age distribution of the district as reported in the most 1998 census. Quotas based on sex and ages were used to select respondents at the end point of the sample. In each commune, an equal number of men and women were selected. Age quotas were established with reference to the age distribution of the commune as reported in the most recent (1998) census.

Remarks about sampling:

-The final numbers of clusters or sampling points: 36 districts (communes).

Survey procedure:

Personal Face to Face Interview

Fieldwork:

Interviews were done face to face. Interviewers were paid according to performance. Approximately 50% of the interviews were supervised.

Weighting:

No weighting variable was added.
