The primary stage of sampling Egyptian households was divided into 26 governorates based on boundaries in the Egyptian local governance system. Because these governorates are not

Urban areas include governorates, which are urban as a whole, dominated by trade, industry, and business. This category includes Governorates of Cairo, Alexandria, Port Said, and Suez.

In Urban-Rural areas, each governorate has some small towns but most inhabitants live in villages and works in agricultural activities.

Northern urban-rural areas include the northern part of the Nile valley: Domiat, Ismailia, Dakahlia, Sharkia, Kaluobia, Gharbia, Menoufia, Kafr El Shheikh, and Behera

Southern urban areas include the southern part of the Nile valley governorates: Giza, Bani Sowief, Fayom, Assiout, m Kena, and Aswan.

Border Areas include desert outside the Nile Valley, including North and South Sinai, New Valley, and Matrouh
