Data Collection Organization:

ARS Research Stockholm

Fieldwork Period:

23-11-2005 - 17-02-2006.

Universe:

National Population, Both sexes, 18 and more years

Sample size:

1003

Estimated Error:

3,2

Questionnaire:

Swedish

Sample:

Random sample from the Swedish population register The sample for this research has been drawn with the following criterias: We divided the number of sampling points by population figures in NUTS 2 areas. After that we selected the largest city in each NUTS 2 area, then we randomly (by computer) selected the designated number of sampling points in each NUTS 2 area based on the population figures provided by SCB. Our sampling program assigns random numbers to settlements, than rank orders it by this random number and it chooses the i.e. 6 uppermost town and/or village from the complete listing with in each area. This method has given us 60 sampling points that is spread statistically correct across Sweden. The number of conducted interviews is also statistically divided amongst the 60 selected citys in the sample so that the 60 sampling points is representative for whole Sweden. The selection of respondents is made by computerised random selection from the Swedish population registry, and is stratified according to size of the city. The designated number of respondents with in each one of the sampling points is separately drawn from this registry. All statistical information is collected from SCB, and are dated 2004.

Remarks about sampling:

Slight skewness in age groups 45 and above. In a first stage, 60 probability sampling units were selected. For each of these, a random sample of respondents were then sampled from the population register. The selection of PSUs was based on a representative stratification over region and population size. A slight underrepresentation of those aged 46-55, a slight overrepresentation of those aged 56-65, a slight underrepresentation of those aged 66-75. Persons older than 85 were not included

Survey procedure:

Personal Face to Face Interview

Fieldwork:

Face to face interviews, non-capi

Response rate:

Total number of starting names/addresses 2230 addresses which could not be traced at all 187 selected respondent too sick/incapacitated to participate 252 selected respondent away during survey period 82 selected respondent had inadequate understanding of language of survey 53 no contact with selected person 95 personal refusal by selected respondent 558 full productive interview 1003

Weighting:

A weight variable which corrects for the deviances in place of living in relation to the sample which includes those who refused to participate and those who were not possible to contact at the correct address ( $n = 1.756$ ). The weight variable doesn't have much effect on the SES variables

V115.- Imagine two secretaries, of the same age, doing practically the same job. One finds out that the other earns considerably more than she does. The better paid secretary, however, is quicker, more efficient and more reliable at her job. In your opinion, is it fair or not fair that one secretary is paid more than the other? (Code one answer):

Vad anser du om följande? Två sekreterare är lika gamla och arbetar med ungefär samma saker. Den ena får veta att den andra tjänar betydligt mer. Den andra är snabbare, effektivare och mer pålitlig i sitt arbete. Tycker Du att det är rättvist eller orättvist att den andra sekreteraren får mer betalt än den första?
