JORDAN 2014

Geographical scope:

Jordan

Principal investigator(s):

Musa Shteivi, PHD Director Center for Strategic Studies University of Jordan Amman, Jordan Tel: (962) 530 0100 Mob: (962)776739799 WWW.jcss.org

Data Collection Organization:

Center for Strategic Studies, University of Jordan, Amman, Jordan

Fieldwork Period:

19-02-2014 - 01-03-2014.

Universe:

National Population, Both sexes, 18 and more years

Sample size:

1200

Estimated Error:

2,9

Sample:

In this survey, the face to face interviews technique was used in collecting the data were data collectors go to the selected area under the supervision of the field work supervisor. The targeted areas were pre-selected areas. The selection of houses/apartment where been done in the field work, a systematic random sample technique was used to locate the houses. In selecting the person inside each selected house, Kish table were used to guarantee the randomness in the selection process. The studied population in the Stratified Cluster Sample was divided as follows: 1- Administrative divisions of the regions (provinces, districts, etc...): Each province was given a share of the sample in proportion to the total amount of the population. 2- Class divisions: the population was divided into classes (urban, rural, desert), and these divisions was taken into account within each province. So, this division gives the rural population a share of the sample proportion to its share in the total population. 3- Smaller communities within each division: In Jordan there is a division of the population by region and blocks and there is available maps of those region/blocks, such division would be the ideal choice for the selection of the sample, since these region/blocks are the basic units/'primary sampling unit' (PSU) of the sample which must be randomly selected, taking into account the population size.

Survey procedure:

Personal Face to Face Interview

Fieldwork:

For collecting the data, 40 data collectors were used with 10 field supervisor and one field coordinator, it took 11 days to collect the data (19/2-1/3/2014), and 10 days for data coding and data entry (working parallel with the field work). CSS apply three stages for data quality control. The first: in the field, each group of data collectors (4 data collectors) has one supervisor who stays with them all the time. The Second: the field coordinator does a daily visit to the field and checks the progress of the work and check the collection process. The third: at the office the data quality team, phone 10-15% of the respondents to check some questions and make sure that the questionnaire was filled in the right ways. The data entry program has logical rules and does not allow any odd or strange answers to be entered through the data entry process.

Remarks about non-response:

99% of interviews supervised 40% back-checked
