Level of presentation: India / State / District / City New Table in 2001 Census This table gives the distribution of census houses used as residence and residence-cum-other use by their habitable condition like good, livable and dilapidated based on the perception of the respondent. The response and thereby the product in this table is qualitative in nature and therefore to an extent there is an element of subjectivity. This is a new table, which provides information about the condition of census houses used for wholly and partly residential purposes. This table excludes houses occupied by the institutional households for which data on condition of house were not collected. The data in this table are presented for total, rural and urban areas separately. City level data will be available only in electronic format.
