READ THE FOLLOWING TO THE RESPONDENT:What is this survey about? In order to understand refugee livelihoods and living conditions, in this survey individuals who are members of refugee households in Kakuma refugee camp are interviewed. Participants in this research study will be asked questions about their livelihoods and strategies to cope with lack of food.What will happen if you decide to participate?If you agree to participate you will be interviewed by a trained enumerator in an area where you feel comfortable answering questions.Are there any risks, harms discomforts associated with this survey? There are no risks, harms or discomforts associated with this survey. However, if answering any questions in the interview becomes uncomfortable for you, or if there are any questions you do not want to answer, you can skip them. You have the right to refuse the interview or any questions asked during the interview. If you feel any discomfort or other concerns after the administration of the survey, please tell the enumerator. He/she will inform the research team who will provide you an individual response to eliminate any discomfort.We will keep everything you tell us as confidential as possible. We will use a code number to identify you in a password-protected computer database and will keep all of your digital records in a protected file. What should I do if I have any questions after the interview?If you have any further question, please do not hesitate to ask the enumerator who interviewed you (enumerator will provide contact information), or you can also contact the UNHCR at kenka@unhcr.org. Are there any benefits in participating? No incentives or benefits will be given for participating. However, your answers will help understand the livelihoods and living conditions of refugees in Kakuma.What are your other choices? Your decision to participate is voluntary. You are free to decline, and you can withdraw at any time without any negative effects on how you or your household is treated.Do you have any questions?

11.1 Read this to the respondent: Thank you for taking the time to speak to us. We really appreciate the time you are giving to participate in the survey. We encourage you to provide honest information. By participating in the survey and by providing accurate information, you are playing an important role in helping us understand the situation of displaced persons in Kenya. I will give you a little scenario and would like to know what you think. John asks his good friend Peter if he has some money that he can lend him to help him pay for medicine for his sick son. Peter has money but was planning to buy cigarettes with it. He lies and tells John that he has none. Is it okay for Peter to lie to John?

- ☐ Yes, it is okay for Peter to lie to John.
- ☐ No, it is not okay for Peter to lie to John.
