Preface

A household consists of a person or group of persons living together usually under the same roof or in the same building / compound, who share the same source of food and recognize themselves as a social unit with a head of household. The enumeration of persons and housing in the 2006 Population and Housing Census was household based. In other words, people were enumerated in the households in which they live. This is consistent with global best practices as enumerating the people within the context of the households they stay reveal more useful information on their living conditions and enhance the usefulness of census data for planning purposes.

Collecting, processing and disseminating data on the size, structure and composition of the households is therefore an integral part of the census process. This volume contains data on the class-size of households in the 2006 Census. The classes range from households consisting of one person to 25 persons. The volume presents the distribution of these classes of households for all the 774 Local Government Areas of the 36 States and the Federal Capital Territory.

It is my hope that planners in the public and private sectors would find this volume on the class size of households and other volumes on the structure of households in Nigeria useful for planning purposes.

The Commission wishes to reiterate its commitment towards the provision of accurate and reliable demographic data for planning in Nigeria. However, the Commission on its own cannot ensure that this data is adequately utilized unless the data users are willing to do so. We therefore urge the general public to rise up to the challenge of building a planned and prosperous Nigeria by using the data in their various fields of endeavour.

Chief Samu'ila Danko Makama CON

Chairman

National Population Commission
