QUESTION 24: CONSIDERATIONS

Clarify that the question asks about the cost of buying/constructing a dwelling like the –main– one they occupy today, and in the same place (same location).

QUESTION 24:  $A_i F_{iE} \otimes K H_i S_{EA} A_i RE \neq MB AI \neq YI$
EVWO যদি আজ কিনতে বা তৈরী করতে চান
তাহলে কত টাকা লাগবে?

Note that this is a subjective and hypothetical question.

- This question is used to find-out the value of housing today, from the perspective of the respondent.

QUESTION 24: A;FçE ®K H;S£A A;RE †MB AI†YI
EVWO যদি আজ কিনতে বা তৈরী করতে চান
তাহলে কত টাকা লাগবে?

- Ask the respondent to put him/her-self in such an hypothetical scenario
- Make clear that you know that they are not offering to rent the dwelling
- Also make clear to the respondent that you know that this figure will be an estimation, but that this is useful to the BBS

QUESTION 24:  $A_i F_{iE} \otimes K H_i S_{EA} A_i RE \neq MB AI \neq YI$
EVWO যদি আজ কিনতে বা তৈরী করতে চান
তাহলে কত টাকা লাগবে?

Alternatives ways of asking:

- “Let us suppose for a moment that you wanted to buy a house exactly like this one, in this village, today, how much money would you have to pay?”
- “Let us suppose that somebody else wanted to buy a house exactly like this one today, here in this village. How much money would he or she have to pay?”

QUESTION 24: CONSIDERATIONS

Do not influence the respondent, and don't show any approval or disapproval about the answer.

- Even if you think, or you know, that the value is unrealistic (too low or too high).

QUESTION 25

Is this a slum household?

QUESTION 25: CONSIDERATIONS

This is not a question to ask to the respondent. You have to observe the dwelling and area, and write the answer

QUESTIONS: SECTION 6B

HIES 2016

PART B: SHOCKS AND COPING

There is a list of 19 possible distress events or shocks that the households may have suffered during the past 12 months.

PART B: SHOCKS AND COPING

Ask about each of the events in the list, and if the respondent does not understand, explain him/her in more detail using the next list:
